Richmond & Danville Bill. Mr. Pilcher Advocates the Measure.

· Speaker Cardwell opened the seasion of the House of Delegates at noon yesterday. No clergyman being present, the regular business was at once proceeded

A petition was presented from Henrietta 11. Dangerfield and others, asking for female auffrage. The petition asks for the amendment of article 3, section -- of the Constitution of the State so as to "Every citizen of the United States, twenty-one years old, who can read and write the English language, who shall have been a resident of this State twelve months, and of the country, city, or town in which such citizen shall offer to vote, three months preceding any election, shall be entitled to vote for mempers of the General Assembly and all officers elected by the people." Dr. Priddy, of Charlotte, introduced resolution, which was agreed to, reto furnish the House with the following ation: The aggregate amount paid information: The aggregate amount paid out of the Treasury for the maintenance of lunatics in jails of the State during the year of 1893. The whole number of lunatics maintained in the jails during the period aforesaid, and the number being so maintained on the 1st of January. 894, and in what counties or corporation The amount so paid out during the said period in each county or corporation.

Leave of absence for three days was granted to Major Baker P. Lee, of Elizaeth City county. Mr. Fentress, of Portsmouth, introduced a joint resolution providing that there shall be erected in the yard of or upon every school house in this State a flag staff, on which the flag of staff, on which the flag of United States and of the State Virginia shall be hoisted every morning, except Sundays, and from which lowered every afternoon by the scholars of the school, acting under the superintendence of and rules established by the principal thereof. The Superin-tendent of Public Instruction and the ard of Education are urged to endeavor to secure the co-operation of the United States Gvernment, and of the city, county, and district school boards of the and to establish such rules as will ultimately result in carrying this object

Speaker Cardwell presented a report, as chairman of the special joint committee appointed during the last session of the egislature, to consider the question as to the Virginia-Maryland boundary with a similar committee of the Maryland Legislature. The report is a very voluminous one, and sets forth in detail the proceedings of the various meetings held summer before last, and it is accompanied by a bill providing for a culting law, agreed upon at the time, by both committees ooth committees.

Petitions against the passage of the Miller tocal-option bill were received from the Central Woman's Christian Temperance Union and a number of resits of Falls Church, Fairfax county. Mr. Siemp's bill, allowing Mr. William Green, of Lee county, to sell the products of his still at his dwelling house, came up again for discussion, the question be-ing the reconsideration of the vote by which the House had declined to order the bill to its third reading and engrossthe ill luck that had befallen Mr. Slemp and desired to come to his rescue, mad an able and clear statement of the merits of the case. He was followed by Judge Nicol, who opposed the measure. Mason was speaking in favor of the measure when the hour for the special order arrived, and the bill again went over, after the motion to reconsider had been carried by a vote of 38 to 23.

Richmond and Danville Bill, and and bill was again discussed for an hour. Mr. Downing presented a resolution providing that at 1:45 P. M. the discussion be ended and a vote taken on the amendment. This motion brought forth a number of Capt. Patteson offered an amendment imiting the issue of the capital stock of the company at $20,000,000.

Mr. Nicol offered as an amendment that the issuing of stock be limited to $15,000,- Nicol offered as an amendment to the resolution that the vote be taken on Tuesday next at 1:30 P. M.

Mr. Logan moved to recommit the bill, but subsequently withdrew his motion, Mr. Downing accepted Mr. Nicol's nmendment, and the resolution, as amended, was agreed to.

Mr. Sumpter offered a resolution providing that the debate be limited to ten minutes for each member, and that no member be allowed to speak more than once on any pending question.

Ar. Downing wanted to have this rule only to apply to the amendments, and not to the discussion of the bill. Mr. Nicol then offered as an amendment that each member be allowed fifteen minutes. The resolution, as modified, was agreed to,

After a brief statement by Mr. Patteson, the chair recognized Mr. Pitcher, of Fauquiec, and the latter made a very able, clear, and pointed statement in support of the bill, paying his respects to the members who had spoken in opposition to the measure.

Mr. Withers Speaks.

Mr. Withers Speaks.

Mr. Withers followed with a splendid address, in which he held out what he considered the objectionable features of the bill. His argument was very bright and commanded the undivided attention of the House. In speaking of the duties of railroad companies, Mr. Withers said:

"A railroad is created by law to fulfil a public purpose, that of affording improved transportation on equal terms to all persons whom it can serve. Whatever is necessary for the honest and impartial discharge of that one function it has a right to do. It can make such charges as will yield it a profit on the investment of its charges evenly among all its patrons in proportion to the service rendered. It is designed to overcome the obstacle of distance; but it should overobstacle of distance; but it should over-come that obstacle for the benefit of all, and it is not within its objects to bring come that obstacle for the benefit of all, and it is not within its objects to bring one locality nearer to market than another, and to make the latter support it in doing so. It is a public servant, not a public tyrant which can enrich and magnify its favorites at the general expense. It may own and control a franchise in its tracks and rights of way, but it has no right to control legislatures or to compel courts and public officers to do its bidding. It is not commercial providence to exalt one vessel to honor and condemn another to dishonor. It is not a political guild, to sway by its capital, its commercial pover, and the work of its employes the business of the people. It is not a modern baron with supreme power over the property and prosperity of its subjects. It is not endowed by the State with the power to rule the business of the nation, dictating in what manner or over what routes the people shall carry on their commerce or the amount of business that the members of the Union and their lady friends are cordially invited to be present at the lecture. It is hoped that all the members will attend.

Reprico Notes.

As published in The Times, a decree was entered yesterday in the Henrico Circuit Court, by the order of Judge Welford, granting a new trial in the Houseman case.

The Brooklyn School Board met and transacted routine business. The teachers were paid and other financial matters adjusted.

The Coupty Court term begins on Monday, there is some doubt about the Jenkins case being called.

On Friday last Mr. George B. Sublett, treasurer of McCarthy Council, Royal Arcanum, paid the sum of S. 600 to the beneficaries of Mr. Robert F. Williams, deceased.

State, it must not become a conspirator against commerce, either by building up monopolies for its favorites or by organizing them for its profit."

The bill then went over until to-morrow.

Mr. Buford called up House Bill No. 408, amending and re-enacting section 128 of the Code of Virginia, in relation to the closing of the polls and the canvass of the votes.

Mr. Buford moved that the bill be made a special order for next Thursday, the motion was lost.

Mr. Wendling's Lecture.

Mr. Wendling's Lecture.

Mr. George R. Wendling, of Washington, will lecture at Calvary Baptist church, corner of Grace and Pine streets, on Monday evening, February 19th. Mr. Wendling is a splendid speaker, and has gained a wide reputation as a lecturer of high class. Professor David Swing says of him: "Great and powerful as ingersoll and Cook are, it is a great pleasure to turn from both and hear Wendling. His language, his logic, his imagination, his enunciation, his method, are all of the old Everett and Channing school."

McGill Union.

MeGill Union.

Father Kenefick, of Alexandria, will lecture at the McGill Union to-morrow night on "Glimpses of Rome." Father Kenefick was a student for several years at the American College, in Rome, presided over by Monsignor O'Connell, and was there ordained priest. He is thoroughly familiar with his subject, and will doubtless treat it in a most interesting manner. The members of the Union and their lady friends are cordially invited to be present at the lecture. It is hoped that all the members will attend.

IN THE STATE SENATE.

A LIVELY DISCUSSION IN WHICE . COMMITTEE IS CRITICISED.

The Richmond Blues Association to Form Battallon-Salary of the New Judge is Fixed but the City must Pay a Share,

The Senate yesterday was under the guiding hand of Senator Hurt, and a large amount of business was reeled off in a style that kept every senator on the alert and reporters and clerks hustling to keep up with the procession. Rev. Dr. Tudor opened the proceedings with prayer,

The Senate concurred in the report of the committee of conference on the bill stablishing a new Court of Law and Equity for Richmond city. The bill is left in the same state in which it passed the Senate, except that it allows the city of Richmond to supplement the judges' salary by $1,200, making it $3,200 in all, the amount of salary received by the judges of the other courts of Richmond.

The Finance Committee reported Senator Wickham's West Virginia debt resolutions, and Senator Wickham moved that they be made the special and continuing order for Tuesday at 1 o'clock.

Senator Harrison asked that the considsenator narrison asked that the consideration of the resolutions be made the special order for Thursday. Senator Wickham said that on Thursday the Committee on Public Institutions would be out of the city and the Senate might be without a quorum. The debate on the resolutions would probably consume two days, and they should be taken up at an early and they should be taken up at an early Senator Flood said he did not see why the consideration of the resolutions should not be postponed until Thursday. He thought that more harm than good was done by the committees traveling around the country. He did not know that per-mission had been given the committee to make a tour Senator Wickham insisted upon his mo-

Senator Flood asked by what authority Senator Flood asked by what authors the committee went on tours of inspection of the public institutions.

Senator Wickham said that question was not before the Senate, but the body knew that it was the custom for the committee Senator Jones stated that he understood the proposed inspecting tour of Thursday would be by a subcommittee. He, there-
